ABOUT ISOCARP SOCIETY AND ISOCARP INSTITUTE

which are the most important issues in the next two decades?

Are there 'shared issues' all over the world or are they very diverse and localized?

Should we focus on specific scales?

Do we need new approaches, tools and instruments to effectively realize change and innovation?

ISOCARP SOCIETY is a not-for-profit organisation established in 1965, as a membership/based society of planners, designers and urban professionals from over 80 countries across the world

Official recognition by: Council of Europe, UNESCO, UN-Habitat, United Nations

ISOCARP INSTITUTE is a branch of ISOCARP Society, in charge of practice, research and capacity building projects around the globe

ISOCARP INSTITUTE works on the range of New Urban Agenda and Sustainable Development Goals initiatives to develop and share knowledge with municipal, city and regional stakeholders. The Institute helps institutions and decision/makers to improve urban planning policies, use spatial resources more effectively and develop new urban planning and design skills.

UP ADVISORY TEAMS NETWORK OF EXPERTS

UP Teams mobilize their advising experts from the ISOCARP members network

It is a diverse group of internationally renowned architects, designers, landscape architects, planners, geographers, sociologists and financial experts, with academia, governmental or practice background

HOW CAN UP ADVISORY TEAMS SUPPORT YOU?

UP Advisory Teams give advisory support in design, strategic planning and policy-making through short-term, on-location Design Charrettes and Studio Workshops

UP Advisory Teams offer capacity building in design and strategic planning through short-term or long-term Studio Workshops, Summer / Winter Schools, Webinars and Trainings.

UP Advisory Teams offer research support for evidence-based design, planning and policy making through short-term, on-location Design Charrettes and Makeathons.

UP Advisory Teams promote and give visibility to planning efforts through ISOCARP Institute publications, disseminate through the affiliate partner networks and media, and at the annual ISOCARP World Planning Congress.

AREAS OF SUPPORT

The UP Teams approach different fields of urban planning in an integrated way. We never look at one issue as stand-alone, but always search for the right possible synergies and innovations. For both new, greenfield areas or urban development as well as for the re-use, retrofit and urban renewal areas.

The areas of expertise and support are: public space design and planning / affordable housing / urban mobility / smart city solutions / built heritage / planning for tourism / climate change adaptation and sustainability / child responsive planning / participatory urbanism

EXAMPLE OF SHORT-TERM ADVISORY METHOD: STUDIO WORKSHOP

In the Studio Workshop format, we unite the efforts of selected group of four to six international, ISOCARP-member urban professionals to help urban authorities in formulating tailor-made solution for a selected location / issue.

Studio Workshop takes 5 working days. During the work days, together with local experts and authorities, we do short field research and collect the relevant information on the task, perform an analysis on several spatial levels using different criteria and formulate brief integrated design and planning strategy. We do quick scans and assessment, we formulate quick, applicable solutions.

EXAMPLE OF SHORT-TERM ADVISORY METHOD: STUDIO WORKSHOP

On the last day of the Workshop we present the results of the experts' collaborative effort. The results are bundled in a publication, promoted on the social media channels and in the ISOCARP networks of partners and annual World Planning Congress.

The international expert group of the Workshop is selected by the UP Advisory Team in consultation with the hosting urban authority.
