The 2009 ISOCARP Awards for Excellence will stimulate and promote innovative spatial projects (urban and regional), successfully elaborated and / or implemented by local, regional, national authorities or other institutions – thus improving natural and built environment, quality of life and cultural development. This year special emphasis will be given to projects recognising the importance and significance of spatial and environmental planning in the area of climate change and globalisation and the participatory planning processes that best express the theme of the 45th ISOCARP World Congress on "Low Carbon Cities" in Porto, Portugal.

The jury of the 2009 ISOCARP Award for Excellence

- ▶ Dirk Engelke, ISOCARP Vice President Communication, pakora.net, Germany
- ▶ Ismael Fernandez Mejia, ISOCARP President-elect, Mexico
- ▶ Thomas Kiwitt, Technical Director Greater Stuttgart Region, Germany
- ▶ Pierre Laconte, ISOCARP President, Belgium
- ▶ Mairura Omwenga, ISOCARP Liaison Office Nairobi, University of Nairobi, Kenya
- ▶ David Prosperi, Florida Atlantic University, United States of America
- ▶ Shi Nan, Secretary General Urban Planning Society of China
- ▶ Pablo Vaggione, ISOCARP Secretary General, Design Convergence, Spain
- ▶ Alfonso Vegara, Fundacion Metropoli, Spain

The projects awarded will be those which are considered of outstanding importance by an independent jury composed of qualified planning practitioners and academics. The jury may establish categories of awards for projects in the following areas: Academia, Policy/ Governance, Planning Praxis and Developer/ Industry.

The International Society of City and Regional Planners has the pleasure to invite to submit entries for the 2009 ISOCARP Awards for Excellence. Please have a look for further details and the application on: www.isocarp.org
