

Vladimir A. Arana, M.Sc., Ph.D. fellow

- Studies of Urban Planning (Villarreal University, Peru) and Landscape Architecture (Oklahoma State University, USA)
- Master of Science in Environmental Engineering and Sustainable Infrastructure (Royal Institute of Technology, Sweden)
- Ph.D. fellow in Economic Geography. Maximum grade in undergraduate studies and maximum grade in M.Sc. thesis.
- Winner of Project Design Competition in Urban Transportation (KTH, Sweden).
- Former Director of The Peruvian Environmental Front (Conservationist NGO), former Hon. President of The National Network of Environmental Action of Peru (RENACE). Former advisor of the Ministry of Housing, the Parliament and former environmental advisor of CARE (International Development NGO).
- Former guest lecturer of Espo Vaanta Polytechnic (Finland).
- Researches and programs developed in Sweden, USA, Finland, Latvia, Estonia, Brazil, Bolivia, Ecuador, Peru.
- Responsible for developing the Environmental Monitoring System for CARE and the Certification of Tourism Sustainability System.
- More than 200 articles published in different newspapers and magazines about urban and environmental issues, and several essays published.
- Currently university lecturer, Representative of The Contracting Society (Development Company) for Latin America, and Founder and President of The Society of Urban Planners of Peru.
- Practice of equestrian sports, four wheel drive competitions and surfing.