downtowns, transit-oriented development, neighborhoods and urban centers. He is recognized as an expert and innovator in the areas of community participation, consensus building and facilitation. He is a leader in the national re:Streets effort, exploring the future of streets. He is the author of several books including Meeting of the Minds, The Inclusive City and the upcoming Streets Reconsidered: Inclusive Design for the Public Realm.

Welcome from Jeannine Rustad

OAPA Chapter President

The Oregon Chapter of the American Planning Association is excited to host the joint OAPA/ISOCARP Conference in Portland in October. While Oregon is known as a leader in land use planning in the United States, our planners are always eager to learn from others to see how we can improve on making great places to live. What a better venue to learn than an international conference, sharing ideas from a global perspective. We hope you'll join us and discover not only the wonders of Oregon, but the warm and welcoming nature of the Portland Metropolitan Region.

Invitation by Ric Stephens

ISOCARP President

This year's topic "Smart Communities" represents the convergence of technology and planning. Our Joint Conference will examine and generate approaches to adopting information and communications technology, intelligent transportation, autonomous vehicles, ubiquitous sensing, e-government, renewable energy, the Internet of Things and the myriad of topics connected with 'smart cities.'
